

Sample Wedding Ceremony Script #6

We are gathered here today to celebrate the marriage of _____ and _____. Marriage is the union of two people founded upon mutual respect and affection. Your lives will change, your responsibilities will increase, but your joy will be multiplied if you are sincere and earnest with your pledge to one another.

So never grow too old to hold hands. Every day remember to say “I love you”. Develop the capacity to forgive and forget, heal quarrels as they happen so that you do not go to bed angry. Your courtship should not end with the honeymoon, so pay attention that you do not come to take each other for granted, and remember to speak words of appreciation and demonstrate your gratitude in thoughtful ways.

(G)_____ will you have this woman to be your wedded wife, to love her, comfort her, honor and keep her and forsaking all others, keep you only unto her, for so long as you both shall live? (I Do)

(B)_____ will you have this man to be your wedded husband, to love him, comfort him, honor and keep him, and forsaking all others, keep you only unto him, so long as you both shall live? (I Do)

Please take hands and repeat after me:

I, (G)_____, choose you _____, to be my wife, my partner and my best friend. I promise to take you to my heart, as you are, and as you will become. I promise to walk by your side, and support your dreams and be more in love with you tomorrow than I am today.

I, (B)_____, choose you _____, to be my husband, my partner and my best friend. I promise to take you to my heart, as you are, and as you will become. I promise to walk by your side, and support your dreams and be more in love with you tomorrow than I am today.

May I have your rings ?

Wedding rings form the seamless, endless shape of a circle and as such, they have long been treasured as a symbol of eternal love. While circles have neither beginning nor end, we know that these rings do. They began deep in the earth; ore was mined; metals were liquefied, purified, refined; rough stones were cut, polished, set. Something beautiful was formed from raw elements. Love is like this: it comes from humble beginnings, is made by imperfect beings. It is the process of making something beautiful where once there was nothing.

May these rings remind you always of the joy that you feel today, but also of the hard work and dedication necessary to forge and maintain a healthy, loving marriage. As you exchange rings, declare your commitment to one another.

Groom, please place the ring on your bride's finger and say:

This ring represent the perfect and endless love that exists between us ,With this ring, I thee wed.

Bride, please place the ring on your Groom's finger and say;

This ring represent the perfect and endless love that exists between us ,With this ring, I thee wed.

Let these rings be received as tokens of your affection, sincerity and fidelity to one another. _____ and _____ have promised each other their love and have given each other rings to wear as a sign of their deep commitment. Therefore, I now declare them to be husband and wife. You may kiss your bride.
