

Celebrate Your LOVE Ceremony #2 _____ and _____ this is the time that you have chosen to become husband and wife. We are here not only to witness your commitment to each other, but to wish you every happiness in your future life together.

Who brings this woman to marry this man? _____ and _____ Marriage is founded on sincerity and understanding which leads to tolerance, confidence and trust. We believe that those qualities which have attracted you both to each other, can be best developed during a life spent together.

A happy marriage will enable you to establish a home with love and stability where your family and friends will always be welcome.

~~~ READING TWO LIVES ~~~

Two lives, two people, so very different, yet so similar. Together we stand as one, sharing our future as it comes. The past is the past. Buds are yet to blossom, with care and trust, the best is yet to be revealed. Honesty and kindness, are the fruits of love. Lord bless this day and always to enrich us so our love will never end.

Before you are joined together in marriage in my presence and in the presence of these your family and witnesses, I am bound to remind you of the solemn and firm nature of the relationship into which you are about to enter.

Marriage as most of us understand it, is the voluntary commitment of a man to a woman and a woman to a man to the exclusion of all others and is entered into with the desire, the hope and the firm intention that it will last for life.

Minister: We shall now say your vows.

(Groom): I (Grooms Name) affirm my love to you (Brides Name) as I invite you to share my life. I promise always to respect your needs. I will endeavor through kindness, unselfishness and trust to achieve the warm rich life we now look forward to.

To this end I call upon all present to witness that I take you (Brides Name) to be my lawful wedded wife, to have and to hold, from this day forward, for better or for worse, for richer or for poorer, in sickness and in health while we both shall live.

May I have your wedding rings ?

May your wedding rings be your most treasured adornment, and tho they will sit quietly upon your hands, may they always remind you of your wedding day and your sacred vows that you have taken here today.

Groom: (Brides Name)_____; with this ring I thee wed. Take it and wear it as a symbol of all we shall share.

~~~ READING from CORINTHIANS 1; 13 ~~~

Love is always patient and kind. It is never jealous. Love is never boastful or conceited, it is never rude or selfish, it does not take offense and is not resentful. Love takes no pleasure in other people's faults, but delights in the truth. It is always ready to excuse, to trust, to hope. It is always ready to endure whatever comes. True love does not come to an end.

Minister: You have declared before all of us that you will live together in marriage. You have made special promises to each other, which have been symbolized by the joining of hands, taking of vows and the giving and receiving of two ring's.

By the authority vested in me as a Minister in the (State of or Country), I now pronounce you to be husband and wife. Now that the ceremony is over and the experience of living day by day is about to begin, go and meet it gladly.

Embrace each other. I know present to you Mr and Mrs _____
